Buzler, of Washington, which took place at Pohick Church, Fairfax county, on Wednesday evening, January 28, at 8 o'clock, Rev. Everard Meade officiating. The church was beautifully decorated with greens and candles. The bride was given in marriage by her father, Mr. Wm. Fedline, of Laurel, Md., was best man and Miss Grace L. Clark, of Occoquan, the bridesmaid. Mr. Edward Pearson, brother of the bride, and Mr. Edward Helms, of Washington, were the ushers. The wedding march was played by Miss Helen O'perry, of Washington. After the ceremony the bride and groom left for an extended honeymoon to New York. Returning they will make their home in Washington.

FINED BOTH.

Susan Coleman, colored, ran into a station in the southern section of the city last night with blood running down her face from a wound on the head. She told Officer Sampson, whom she met that she had been assaulted by Ella Thornton, colored, at a house on Franklin street, between Pitt and St. Asaph. Officer Sampson conducted the woman to the Alexandria Hospital and after her head had been dressed, he arrested the Coleman woman as well as the female who, it was alleged, had made the assault. They were brought before the Police Court this morning when the injured woman said she fell down the steps and struck her head against the mantelpiece. It was shown, however, that both women had been drinking and that a fight occurred. Justice Oston fined them $5 each.

POLICE COURT.

[Justice H. B. Oston presiding.]
The following cases were disposed of this morning:
Samuel O. is charged with larceny of $18 from Charles Spies, was fined $20.
Susan Coleman and Ella Thornton, both colored, charged with disorderly conduct and fighting, were fined $5 each.
A white man, charged with being drunk on the street, was sent to jail for 30 days.

DANCE LAST NIGHT.

Alexandria Lodge, No. 738, B. P. O. Elks, gave their first hop of the season last night at McBurney's Hall which was very largely attended. Among the attendants were a number from other cities. Dancing was kept up until midnight after which supper was served at the new Hotel Belmont. Prof. Cohen's orchestra, of Washington, furnished the music. The Elks will give another hop the latter part of this month. The following composed the dance committee: H. R. Quinn, James Kaufmann, Harry Diehlberg, Geo. Betts, Jr., David Robey and E. Stuart Smith.

OPERA HOUSE.

An unusually good production of the famous play "Dr. Jekyll and Mr. Hyde" was given last evening by the Gay Johnsons of N. O. The cast, which called for clever characters, was quite capable of handling this masterpiece and together with elaborate stage settings, the most dramatic was presented with an excess of detail which was altogether pleasing. The theatre patrons should avail themselves of the opportunity of seeing this performance, which far exceeds anything thus far offered by Mr. Johnson's company this season.

MORE COLD WEATHER.

The weather yesterday became cold with occasional spits of snow and after dark a stiff north wind set in which continued for some time. The temperature today has been cold and the heavy sky.

Considerable ice formed on the flats of the river last night. The steamer Newport News, which arrived at this port from Norfolk about half an hour late this morning, reports experienced snow and heavy northwest winds during her run up Chesapeake Bay and in this river as far as R. G. point.

DEATH OF MAJOR WALLACE.

Major Thomas P. Wallace died yesterday at 11 o'clock at Mary Washington Hospital in Fredericksburg, in the 74th year of his age.

He was a native of Fredericksburg, where he was born in February, 1836 in the historic building known as the Rising Sun Hotel, then the residence of his parents, Howson H. Wallace and Elizabeth Brown Wallace. He was one of the numerous pupils at Fredericksburg Academy, very few of whom now survive, when Mr. Thomas H. Wallace, grandfather of Bishop Peterkin, of West Virginia, was the widely known master, and after preparation at this school he finished his education at the University of Virginia. In 1856 he commenced to practice law at Madison C. B., continuing his residence there until the opening of the civil war, when he returned to his native town to enlist as a private in Co. B, 30th Virginia Infantry, afterwards of Ome's Brigade, Pickett's Division. He was subsequently promoted to the position of quartermaster of the regiment, with the rank of captain, and served such until the surrender of Gen. Lee's army at Appomattox O. H. After the war he practiced his profession at Orange C. B., representing that county two sessions in the legislature, and after some years removed to Fredericksburg. Some years after the war he married Miss Victoria Tallafiero, of Orange, a daughter of Dr. Horace Tallafiero, one of the most beautiful and accomplished women of her day who died about 15 years ago.

Major Wallace was an elector on the presidential ticket in 8th district some years ago and a director of the old Midland Railroad. He was the oldest member of Lodge No. 4, A. F. and A. M., of Fredericksburg, and past master of the Lodge at Orange. He was elected mayor of Fredericksburg in 1904, and served for the term of four years, declining re-election; retiring from his practice also, he rounded out his life as a private citizen of his native city, where he died. Major Wallace was a remarkable man in many respects. He was always a "Simon pure" party democrat; had a wide reputation, both before and after the war, of being one of the most numerous stump speakers in the state of Virginia. His unending flow of appropriate anecdotes was enjoyed by everyone who knew "Tom Wallace," as he was familiarly known all over the commonwealth. He was a man of remarkable memory, never forgetting a face, name or incident, and his faculty, in addition to a kind heart and unselfish and generous nature, was his friends among all who knew him, men, women and children. He early joined the Presbyterian church, of which he was a member and elder at the time of his death. He is survived by only one member of his immediate family, his brother, A. Henderson Wallace, of Winston, Culpeper county. [Major Wallace was almost as well known in this city as in his native town. He made frequent visits to Alexandria where he was always heartily welcomed by his many friends and acquaintances.]

PERSONAL.

Among the Alexandrians who attended the Georgetown Assembly last night were Miss Mary Snowden and Messrs. Edward Fawcett, Paul Dawson, A. D. Brockett and J. S. Douglas.

The Alexandria German Club will give their last dance of the season on Friday night next.

Mr. Norval Shirley and Miss Edith Pullman were married last night at the parsonage of the M. E. Church South by Rev. C. D. Bule.

Miss Margaret Black, of Woodbine, Md., is visiting Miss Mary Phillips.

Mrs. J. D. Gistwood and the Misses Gistwood, wife and daughters of Dr. Gistwood, U. S. N., are in Rome, where Miss Hildred Gistwood will be present at the midwinter court of Queen Helena of Italy, the honor of carrying with it an invitation to the two cut balls and the balls at the embassies. The honor of the presentation this year is the more unusual, as Queen Helena held no reception last year on account of the Mexican disaster, and so only two names could be added by Ambassador Leshman to those left him by his predecessor, Mr. Gistwood. Miss Gistwood shares the distinction with Mrs. S. S. of Norfolk. Miss Gistwood will be in yellow suit, with rich hand-embroideries and overdress of chiffon. The court reception will be held in the afternoon and the cut balls between the 1st and 9th of February.

FINED TWENTY DOLLARS.

Samuel Oils, was arrested yesterday by Officer Knight charged with larceny of $18 from Charles Spies, was brought before the Police Court this morning. The complaint alleged that on Friday night he entrusted Oils with the money who was to pay one man $15 and another $3, and that he failed to settle with either. The accused in his defense said he lost the money. Justice Oston fined him $20.

Why not look on all sides of a question? This talk about the price of being being the direct fault of the retailer is about as one-sided an answer to an all-sided question as we have ever experienced. Now just listen to the side of it (the retailer): Statistics show us there is more beef in this country now than ever before. The best of it we never get because it is shipped to Europe. There is an import tax on beef but no export tax. This looks to us like a case of all going out and nothing coming in. And we, the poor consumer and the poor retailer, are the ones who pay the bill. Is the big man who makes the law and owns the beef. Take the tariff off the meat coming in and put it on the meat going out and all our meat troubles will be settled. But will it ever happen? Well, hardly ever. Stay at home, the author says, and the author market.

The Navy Scandal.

Doston, Mass., Feb. 1.—Declaration that because Dr. Edward S. Cowles, second cousin to Mrs. Theodore Roosevelt, had boasted of an alleged conquest he had made of Miss Dorothy Hester, of Chicago, the physician is now the central figure of a naval scandal here, was made by Dr. Ansey H. Robnett, U. S. N., when he resumed the stand as the first witness for the defense at a navy yard court martial here today.

Dr. Robnett, who is alleged to be the fiancé of the Chicago girl, is testifying in behalf of Paymaster Auld, who is accused of having insulted and attacked Cowles at a navy dance here on December 11, at the home of Medical Inspector Ames. Auld himself is expected to take the stand later in the day to refute the testimony yesterday given by Miss Margaret Ames, hostess of the hop, who declared Auld had confessed to her that he had lied when he ordered Cowles from the "hop" and informed him that his absence was desired by Miss Ames.

Only three witnesses were heard for the prosecution. They were Miss Ames, Dr. Cowles, the complainant and his wife, who was with the physician when he alleges that Auld struck him at the "hop."

Admiral Swift, former commandant at the Charleston navy yard, was brought into the case as was also his daughter, Miss Madeline Swift, whose friendship for Auld was recently alleged to be the cause for her suddenly breaking off an engagement to wed Harry Dyer Sorer, of Atlanta, Ga., practically on her wedding eve.

Admiral Swift's part in the case, Dr. Cowles testified, was an acknowledgment that Auld and Robnett had acted shamefully toward Cowles and in making an apology for the navy to him as a result of the y. m. c. a. actions at the hop.

Miss Swift's only connection with the case, so far as has developed, is that Miss Ames declared that the whole dispute was a personal matter between Cowles and the aggrieved Robnett.

Just why Auld should have been so active in resenting the reported boasts of Cowles over his alleged conquest of Miss Hester has not as yet been fully brought out.

Instructions that Dr. Cowles had annoyed other young women at previous merry-makings of the navy set here have also been made and testimony along these lines is expected from Auld in attempts to prove partial justification for his encounter with Cowles.

"I never gave my photograph to Dr. Cowles. I took it when I was absent. His delay in returning it was the cause of all this trouble."

This declaration made by Miss Dorothy Hester, of Chicago, opened up the real cause of the alleged "insult and attack" on Dr. Cowles. Miss Hester insisted that at no time had she given Cowles any right to have her picture. She insisted that their acquaintance was of the most ordinary sort and intimated that alleged boasting by the physician of their friendship had no foundation in fact.

Miss Hester stated that Cowles sought a clandestine appointment with her and had used objectionable language to her over the phone.

Sullivan Believes Johnson Will Win.
Boston, Feb. 1.—That announcement that he believes the Jeffries Johnson fight is fixed, is made here today by John L. Sullivan. In an interview Sullivan asserted his views of the coming match: "I don't think that Jeffries and Johnson are on the level about this match. There is something funny about the whole affair. The black man can win if he but is on the level. In my opinion the alleged bout looks bad. I don't think that Jeffries could be dragged into a ring with the black man unless there was an arrangement that Johnson would lay down. Now, I never like to have a white man fight a 'coon' and, while I hate to admit it, Johnson looks like a sure bet to me."

The River Tiber Rising.

Rome, Feb. 1.—The river Tiber has been rising steadily for several days and today has attained an unprecedented height. The lowlands along the banks are flooded and the roads are impassable. Rescue parties of soldiers are carrying the inhabitants to the highlands and the government is taking energetic measures to relieve all suffering. The inhabitants are panic-stricken. The disaster is attributed to the approach of Haley's comet and world-wide floods are predicted.

Although the officials are working frantically in an effort to prevent damage to the site of the proposed world's fair and to erect dams whereby the flood will be deflected from the grounds, it is not expected they will be successful. An announcement that the opening will be postponed until 1912 is looked for.

Reports from the headwaters of the Tiber declare that the flood crest will be extraordinarily high and a warning to all of the towns along its banks to prepare for serious flood conditions, has been sent broadcast.

In anticipation of much suffering the army authorities are preparing to utilize tents to house the homeless and army trains to feed them.

The Telegraph and Telephone Merger
Pittsburg, Pa., Feb. 1.—Even messenger boys are to be included in the merger of the telegraph and telephone interests of the country, and the next step in the consolidation of these interests will be the taking over of the American District Telegraph Company of New Jersey, by the American Telephone and Telegraph Company, according to a well-defined rumor in Pittsburg financial circles today.

A local broker today expressed the belief that the Postal Telegraph Company would soon be included in the merger, the complete combination thereby presenting an almost complete control of telegraph and telephone and messenger service throughout the United States.

New York, Feb. 1.—The stock market opened fractionally lower. Steel company stock fell nearly a point and others dropped on opening sales, though movements were with a narrow margin. Towards the end of the first 15 minutes the tone hardened.

After the first few minutes the tone strengthened rapidly and in the latter part of the hour 14 annual advances were noted in a number of leaders. Government securities, other bonds irregularly, and the gold market were dull but firm.
